COCHRANE, "IN ENEMY'S COUNTRY," ADVISES VALLEY APPLE GROWERS

Former Farm Bureau Manager Says High Standardization of Grade and Pack Makes Washington Apples Not Superior To Ours Sell In New York For Much Higher Price.

C. F. Cochrane, former manager of the Ulster County Farm Bureau, makes the following statement in regard to the box apple industry of the northwest. Mr. Cochrane has been employed as a Washington state horticultural inspector during the apple harvest season.

Cashmere, Wash., Dec. 11.—I clipped the following article out of one of the leading newspapers in the Washington apple district. This statement was made by the largest apple shipper in the state of Washington under the heading, "New York City Prefers Box Apples At Five Times The Price."

"I found that buyers are willing to pay the price for box apples even where eastern apples are selling at a very low price.

"To satisfy myself regarding the conditions, I took the matter up with a broker in New York who had a stand, in a first class market which was donated to him by the mayor of New York, to sell apples during National Apple Week. He was selling the New York apples at 75 cents per bushel and was doing a tremendous business. I induced him to display about a dozen boxes of extra fancy Jonathans, from the Wenatchee Valley in order to get the sentiment of the eastern buying public, and satisfy myself whether or not they would pay the price of $3.75 for our Jonathans when they could buy the eastern apple for 75 cents.

"Those apples had only been in place a very few minutes when there was a mob of people demanding to know the price of those box apples. Inside of a half an hour there were two clerks busy taking orders and receiving cash for these apples. Inside of four hours time, they were able to sell something over 500 boxes at these prices. This man was going to make every effort possible to induce the officials to let him continue this stand as he found he could sell unlimited quantities of box apples under this method.

I do not know whether those 75c apples were in bushel baskets or hampers or whether they were bulk apples. However, the Washington shipper compared them to his extra fancy box Jonathans. Although this comparison is hardly fair it is a well known fact that northwestern box apples are selling very well this year considering the bumper apple crop in the east.

High Freight Rate.

It costs nearly one dollar a box to ship apples from the state of Washington to New York city. Yet, in spite of this high freight rate, it seems that the Washington grower is realizing more out of his apples this year than the New York state grower. On Nov. 12th, the following prices were reported on the New York market: Barrels, A grade, 2½ inch Jonathan, $4 to $6.50; Greenings, $5 to $7.50; Baldwin, $3 to $5; McIntosh, $5.50 to $7; Ben Davis, $3 to $4.

Northwest box apples, first grade: Spitzenburg, $3.50 to $3.75; Jonathan, $2.75 to $3.25; Delicious, $4 to $4.25; Winter Banana, $2.75 to $3.50; McIntosh, $2.75 to $3.50.

On Nov. 18 the following prices prevailed: Barrels, A grade, 2½ inch, Greenings, $4 to $5; Baldwins, $2.50 to $4.50; Northern Spy, $3.50 to $6; McIntosh, $6 to $8.

Northwest box apples—First grade: Jonathan, $2.75 to $3.25; Spitzenburg, $3.60 to $4; McIntosh, $2 to $2.65.

The apple barrels cost around $1.50 this year while the apple box (1 bushel) costs the Northwest grower between 25 and 30c.

The government report covering a total of 24 days delivery of apples during the month of November shows the following arrivals at New York city: New York state, 775 cars; Washington, 511 cars; Oregon, 193 cars; Montana, 69 cars, and Idaho, 30 cars.

New Washington growers sell their apples to local dealers. The local dealer loads the cars and either sells them outright to eastern distributors or consigns them to eastern distributors to be sold on commission. Growers of the Wenatchee valley which is the most intensive apple district of the state, received the following prices f. o. b. cars or delivered at the dealers' warehouses packed and ready for shipment: Delicious, $2.50 to $2.75; Jonathan, $2.10 to $2.25; Spitzenburg, $2.10 to $2.35; Winesap, $2 to $2.25; Rome Beauty, $1.75 to $2; Stayman, $2 to $2.25.

These are the prices paid for the top grade or "extra fancy grade" apples. Prices paid for "fancy grade" apples were usually about 25c less while "C grade" prices were between 25 and 50c below "fancy grade" prices. In well cared for orchards the apples grade up in approximately the following proportions: Extra fancy, 50 to 75 per cent; fancy, 20 to 15 per cent; and C grade, 20 to 10 per cent. Some varieties naturally grade up stronger than others. Delicious, for instance, sometimes runs 80 per cent and even 90 per cent extra fancy, whereas Ben Davis or Black Ben runs as low as 20 per cent or 40 per cent extra fancy.

High Standardization of Grade.

Why is it that the northwest apple sells at such a high premium on the eastern market? One could not tell a N. Y. state apple grower that it is due to the superior flavor or eating qualities of the northwest apple although it is next to impossible to surpass the splendid flavor and quality of the Washington, Delicious, Spitzenburg, Grimes Golden and White Winter Pearmain. It is not the efficient handling of the crop. Through well organized growers co-operative organizations, such as the "California Fruit Growers' Exchange," as only a small percentage of the crop is taken care of this way. The growers of Washington like the N. Y. state growers are just beginning to organize. A large co-operative association is now being organized in the Wenatchee valley apple district. It is the high standardization of grade and pack that has enabled the northwest grower to successfully compete with the eastern growers in eastern markets. The northwest box apples look better, keep better, and therefore sell better. They look better because the fruit is carefully thinned, which results in good size and color development in the fruit that remains on the tree. They keep better largely because they are not bruised or stem punctured. Every apple is carefully sorted, wrapped in paper and packed in the box in such a way that they do not stem puncture each other. Skin broken apples are very likely to decay early. The wrapper also helps to preserve the apple.

Apple Grading Rules.

Each of the northwest states has its own apple grading laws but they are all practically identical. This insures a uniform grade and pack for the entire box apple district. There are three grades, namely: "Extra fancy," "fancy" and "C grade."

Extra fancy apples are defined as sound, mature, clean, hand-picked well formed apples only, free from all insect pests, diseases, blemishes, bruises and holes, spray burns, limb rubs, visible water-core, skin punctures or skin broken at stem, but slight russeting within the basin of the stem shall be permitted.

Fancy apples are defined as apples complying with the standard of extra fancy grade, except that slight leaf rubs, scratches or russeting shall be permitted up to a total of ten per cent of the surface, and providing that scab spots not larger than one-quarter inch in diameter in the aggregate shall be permitted in this grade.

"C" grade apples shall consist of sound, mature, hand-picked apples which are practically free from infection, bruising or broken skin and which are not badly misshapen, provided that two healed worm stings, slight sun scald and scab up to a total of one-half inch in diameter shall be permitted in this grade.

Two of these grades may be packed together as a combination pack. When all three grades are packed together the boxes must be marked "Orchard Run." The color specifications on some of the common varieties are as follows:

Solid Red Varieties.

Baldwin—Extra fancy, 75%; fancy, 25%.
Arkansas Black—Extra fancy, 75%; fancy, 25%.
Black Ben Davis—Extra fancy, 75%; fancy, 25%.
Spitzenburg—Extra fancy, 75%; fancy, 25%.
Winesap—Extra fancy, 75%; fancy, 25%.
Jonathan—Extra fancy, 66 2-3%; fancy, 25%.
McIntosh—Extra fancy, 66 2-3%; fancy, 25%.

Striped or Partial Red Varieties.

Delicious—Extra fancy, 66 2-3%; fancy, 25%.
Stayman—Extra fancy, 66 2-3%; fancy, 25%.
Ben Davis—Extra fancy, 50%; fancy, 15%.
Rome Beauty—Extra fancy, 50%; fancy, 15%.

All three grades call for uniform size and proper packing. A tolerance of (5%) for a total of all defects from the standard is permitted in all grades.

Maintaining The Standard.

These grading rules are closely adherred to by the growers and packing houses. A corps of horticultural inspectors are maintained by the state to enforce the grade and pack rules. Many apple dealers or distributing companies like wise have inspectors. The inspectors carefully inspect the packed boxes as the are received at the warehouses or cars for shipment and if they are not up to standard they are condemned and must be repacked or marked down one or possibly two grades. After a grower or packing house has had a few hundred boxes condemned they are very apt to see to it that their next lot is properly put up. I have been working as an inspector all fall. One day I was obliged to condemn six truck loads. Two loads had to be repacked and four marked down a grade. One can readily imagine how popular an inspector is with some growers, especially after such a day. Most growers realize however that it is only through rigid inspection that they can maintain and better their high standard pack which creates their market. Most shippers are only too glad to pay the 1½ cents per box as the charge made for the inspection in order to secure a state certificate which certifies that the fruit is up to grade. It is a safeguard to them and a recommendation on the car when they come to sell. Inspection in the northwest will undoubtedly become more and more rigid.

The Box Apple Package For N. Y. State.

The box apple package will probably never become popular in western New York, but in the Hudson Valley apple district where a more highly colored, better grade and cleaner apple is [illegible] produced where properly grown there is a good field for the box pack. However, if the box pack is to become successful in the Hudson Valley it will be only after a grade and pack rules of a high standard have been established and rigidly adhered to throughout the valley. Under the present system we could not [illegible] [illegible] more to the barrel pack and [illegible] [illegible] a grower is getting up a few boxes there are about as many different grades and packs as there are growers using the box package. It will be necessary for the Hudson Valley growers to build a strong body of growers to place a large quantity of [illegible] apples on the market before the reputation for putting up a superior box apple is established. The reputation that will attract the market [illegible] [illegible] for the "[illegible] Hudson Valley Brand."

BUSINESS MEN'S GYM CLASS AT Y. M. C. A.

Y GYM CLASSES IN FULL SWING

A big program is now carried out daily at the Y. M. C. A. Classes at the gymnasium are under full swing. There are three groups of business men coming bi-weekly. Mondays and Fridays the class meets from 12 to 1:30. Tuesday and Thursdays from 5 to 6:30 and Saturday afternoon from 3 until 5. Volley ball is the game played and competition is an interesting factor. Exercise and fun combined in a way that makes the game most attractive.

The gymnasium this season is proving to be a very popular place, and the senior and boys groups keep the place constantly used during their scheduled time. Tuesday evenings are reserved for the ladies and a membership of over 150 have kept everything lively with that group. Thursday night's programs are given over to the Rotary boys' group and also Industrial basketball games. A novel feature has been introduced when moving pictures along educational lines are shown during the intermission of games.

The membership is increasing constantly and the privileges of the association are being used to a great extent.

N. Y. ROBBERS KILL ANOTHER

Cashier At Seamen's Mission Shot By Masked Bandit In Daylight And $400 Taken From Home For Aged Sailors.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 20.—Two bandits in a bold daylight raid on the Seamen's Mission, at 507 West street, shot and killed James Russel, the cashier, and escaped with $400 today.

The robbers drew pistols when they entered the mission and told Russell to open up the safe but he refused.

One of the men fired and a bullet entered Russell's breast just below the heart. Russell fell mortally wounded and was dead when the police arrived.

Both bandits wore masks.

The $400 represented the receipts taken in at the mission since Saturday morning.

The mission is a home for aged sailors.

According to Arthur Murdock, the desk clerk, Russell was not the regular cashier. He was standing against a radiator in the front of the building when the two robbers entered.

MADE ICE IN RONDOUT CREEK

Sunday night was the coldest so far experienced this winter, and ice formed in the Rondout creek during the night. This morning the creek was full of floating skim ice. At 7 o'clock this morning thermometer along the Strand registered 18 degrees above zero. The cold weather was accompanied by a heavy white frost, which weather prophets say is a sign of rain.

Immigrant Rush Continues.

New York, Dec. 20.—The Christmas rush of immigrants reached its peak within the last twenty four hours when eight liners docked with 11,000 steerage passengers.

SEASONAL CONDITIONS IN FACTORIES HERE

Few Plants Idle for Lack of Business and Cigar Factories Can't Get Enough Workers—Usual Suspension for Inventories in Some Industries.

As is the case almost every year end, there are stories being circulated on the streets of a general closing down of all the factories in the city for a number of weeks after the holidays, and of numbers of workers being thrown out of employment. Inquiries made among the manufacturers show that there is little suspension of work that would not be the case in any other year and that general conditions in Kingston are good considering the depression throughout the country. From the reports, one may gather that man is not so particular as to his shirt as he was a few years ago, but still insists upon having his panatela or perfecto. Some shirt factories in town are working with a slightly reduced forces, shorter hours and a consequent decrease in pay. The cigar factories on the other hand are working full force at the usual hours with the usual wages, and the man or woman who is out of work will hardly be turned down if he or she applies at any of the tobacco plants for a job. There are some factories closed, waiting for brisker trade. The shipyards are working about the same as usual, some with shorter hours, as is customary during the winter months.

Here are the reports from a number of the plants:

The Jacobson Shirt Company will not close down during the Christmas holidays. The manager states that the plant is working full force, with the same hours and at the same wages.

The Columbia Shirt Company's factory will close for a week following Christmas for the purpose of taking inventory and general cleaning. This has been customary for many years. The company is working with about 75 per cent of the usual force. Hours have been cut. The plant now works from 8 to 5 instead of 7:30 to 5:30 as previously. Wages have been reduced a little.

At the [illegible] Shirt Company it was stated that the management was anticipating closing down during the Christmas holidays. This, [illegible] will be [illegible] [illegible] of [illegible] employes. The plant [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible].

WHEAT GAMBLERS ARE EXONERATED

From Responsibility for Decline in Wheat Prices by Federal Trade Commission—Slump Ascribed to Natural Causes and Remedies Suggested.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 20.—Falling wheat prices, which farmers complain to congress are costing them untold millions, are due to natural causes and not to any appreciable extent, due to market manipulation, according to the federal trade commission, which has just completed an investigation of the situation for President Wilson.

The president on October 12 last directed the trade commission to investigate the wheat situation and suggest possible remedial measures. The report today outlined seven cogent reasons for the market's decline and in the matter of possible remedies made three suggestions:

First, the commission believes, subject of course to the opinion of the attorney general, that the president of the United States has no power under existing law to shut out wheat imports in the present situation by embargo, import duties or otherwise.

"Second, the president of the United States apparently has certain powers under the Lever act to stop future trading in wheat. In view of the divergence of opinions on the possible efficacy of such action, and of the failure of the wheat futures market to perform satisfactorily the functions of stabilization and insurance which its advocates have claimed for it, if regulatory or other action is to be employed in the matter of future trading, consideration of the question by congress and legislation not connected with war powers, are indicated.

"Third if foreign governments are to maintain, for some time to come, buying commissions with concentrated purchases, the desirability of the United States meeting them through some selling organization should be seriously considered."

The seven reasons assigned for the recent falling price declines were listed by the commission as follows:

1—The world yield for the 1920 crop will be larger than 1919.

2—Foreign governmental buying which previously met a single seller in the United States and does not now, has been characterized by heavy buying in the spring of 1920 and by slack purchases later, and is thus marked in the decline.

3—Unprecedented importation of wheat from Canada into the American market.

4—The record breaking yields of corn and oats have been factors in the depression of wheat.

5—Slack demand in the domestic demand for flour during the latter half of 1920.

CLARA SMITH HAMON ADMITS SHE HELD GUN WHEN HAMON WAS SHOT

Describes Oil Millionaire as Drunk at Last Meeting and Herself Holding Pistol That Went Off When He Struck Her With Chair.

(Copyright, 1920, by the Universal Service.)
(Copyright, 1920, by the Chicago Herald and Examiner.)
(Copyright, 1920, by Sam Blair.)

(By Sam Blair.)

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 20.—Clara Smith Hamon is on her way back to Ardmore, Okla., to face a jury on a charge of slaying Jake L. Hamon, multi-millionaire oil magnate and Republican national committeeman from Oklahoma.

She will tell the Ardmore jury the story she told me last night in the public park at Chihuahua, Mexico.

The story rushed to a climax with an account of the last meeting of Hamon and Clara in the Ardmore Hospital, after the shooting.

It closes with a benediction on the soul of the man that is as strange as the conflict of emotions which now seethe in the heart of the woman accused.

"He was always cruel and snarling with me," she said, and lifted my fingers to her hair so that I might feel the furrowed scar—the result of one of his many blows, she said. Then she cried:

"That bullet which killed him should have been fired ten years ago.

"I was advised to kill him—yes, by several of the biggest men in Oklahoma. But I loved him; I still love him.

"He has made his peace with God. He told me so that morning in the hospital after he said he was dying, and that I should go away and he would tell the world he had shot himself. He's made his peace with God and God and I forgave him on that day. He told me he would meet me in heaven—and I'll meet him there.

"But if I only had shown to the Ardmore authorities the black thumb marks on my throat, the torn skin on my hands, the battered face of me, after the night the bullet was fired. Had I shown these, every one would have believed my story. Will they believe, now that the bruises are almost healed?

"I want to tell you of that day and night—of that night he was shot. For ten years—you know—we had been—he had dominated me. I hated him and yet I loved him. That day of November 21 we were to part for good. It was my decision and his. His wife was returning to him from Chicago. He had grown to be a power in money and politics. I had made him what he was, but I had no desire to remain with him and share in his glory.

"That day was to have been our last together. We had made up our minds.

"We had promised each other that not a thing should happen to mar the sanctity of the time. It was sacred for me because he was the only man in my life.

"The day passed. Instead of our being together as we had desired, he was forced to run constantly to his office. Each time he came back to me he had more drink than before.

"Always in the past he had been able to achieve what you call 'carrying his liquor.' But, as this day wore on, and I got fitful glimpses of him, I became convinced that he was going crazy.

"I went to my room, number 28. His room was number 29. I locked the communicating door between. I locked my own door. I could hear him beyond the partition. He evidently was more angry than ever before.

"I telephoned for some food. The negro porter—Bill—came with the food. At his heels rushed Mr. Hamon. I could not put him out.

"I got rid of the porter. I knew another terrible scene was coming.

"Mr. Hamon flung himself down on my bed. He was disgustingly intoxicated. He called me—he called me—a terrible name. He wanted to know who I had been riding with.

"He knew—he knew—oh, so well, that never in ten years since I was seventeen had I ever so much as raised my eyes at another man. And yet on that last day, he chose to pretend he was doubting me.

"His knife. Mr. Hamon's knife fell out of his pocket as he lay on the bed. I don't know why it must have been providence—I picked it up and concealed it on the table under a newspaper.

"He got up from the bed. He grabbed me. His fingers were deep into my throat. I couldn't scream.

"He laughed that harsh snarling laugh of his, which he was careful not to give in public, but it was a laugh I knew well.

"He watched me mocking for an instant, that beastly sneer on his lips. He lighted a cigar and this is what he said to me:

"'I would as easy cut your throat as I draw on this cigar.'

"He felt for his knife—the knife I had picked up and hidden under the newspaper. Then he reached for his watch chain. Last Christmas I had given him a gold chain with a knife attached.

"The knife was gone. He leered at me foolishly for a moment. Then his face set in a way that is horrible to remember. He started to lunge toward me across the floor. His arms were outstretched and his fingers clutched the air grotesquely.

"Instinctively I reached behind me. On the window sill I felt my handbag. It was open. Inside, my hand searched for and found my gun.

"He had given me this gun himself not so long ago. I levelled this gun at his head. I cried out for him to stop. There was a chair close to his left hand. He lifted his right hand suddenly and switched off the light.

"The chair was swung over his head. I could see the movement faintly from the light reflected from the street arc. He rushed at me with the chair up. He struck down savagely at me.

"He struck me with the chair. As it came down the gun went off. It's true I held it in my hand and had it pointed at him. But I swear to God I didn't pull the trigger."

15,000 POLICE COMB NEW YORK

And Continuous Raids Net 200 Suspects, But Two Bold Robberies Are Pulled Off While They are In Progress.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Dec. 20.—With more than 200 arrests made in the greatest police round up New York has ever known in an effort to halt the unprecedented crime wave, the authorities continued their drive today to purge the city.

Police raids have been continuous in cafes and restaurants from elaborate Broadway cabarets to the cheap east side coffee houses. All known criminals were picked up and taken to police headquarters. Only a few of the men arrested were detained, however. Most of them were released after being questioned and warned to leave town.

While the police were raiding for suspects, burglars broke into the home of Mrs. Cecil Sartoris, granddaughter of President U. S. Grant, and stole a number of valuables including jewelry, gowns, cash and a watch that belonged to General Grant.

The loot was valued at $6,000. It included 8,000 francs of the French restoration fund of which Mrs. Sartoris was vice president.

Despite the extraordinary police precautions bandits found it easy to raid and rob the garage at 213 West Sixty Ninth street. This robbery occurred within a block of the West Sixty Eighth street police station where ten detectives with an automobile were doing patrol duty. This garage is in the busiest part of New York city.

The police department is dividing the city into zones and more than 15,000 policemen will be kept on duty until after the crime wave subsides.

In addition to the regular members of the force 4,500 reserves will be employed. The old fixed post system of keeping a policeman stationary so that citizens will know where to find one in a hurry is being reinstated.

"Good-Looking" Means the Opposite of Sick-Looking

It's a Matter of Red Blood Cells

Pepto-Mangan Makes Rich, Red Blood—Builds Up People Who Lack Vitality

If your body is sound and your blood is rich and red, your acts and thoughts will be quick and strong.

Let your blood get weak, and your food won't nourish you nor your sleep refresh you.

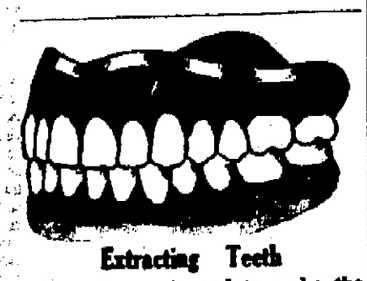

Too much hard work, an illness, or a mental strain can thin down your blood, and Pepto-Mangan is needed to bring it back to healthy, normal condition.

Knowing this doctors for years have recommended Gude's Pepto-Mangan because of its blood-building and tonic properties.

Pepto-Mangan is such a simple and harmless tonic, yet such a prompt builder of red blood, that its reputation has spread all over the country. To-day every druggist sells it and thousands of men and women use it as a restorative whenever they or their children seem to feel below par.

Pepto-Mangan agrees with the most delicate stomach, and is obtainable in either liquid or tablet form.

Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package when you buy Pepto-Mangan. Ask the druggist for "Gude's." If "Gude's" is not on the package, it is not Pepto-Mangan.—Advertisement.

Get The Grinding Habit

If a feed expert came along and outlined a plan to you whereby you could save from 12 to 20 per cent of the feed you and your family have been in the habit of eating—if he outlined such a plan which would not necessitate any sacrifice on your part, you'd follow it, wouldn't you?

While we won't attempt to tell you how you and your family can live more cheaply, we will, however, undertake to outline a very simple plan whereby you can save from 12 to 20 per cent of the feed ordinarily eaten by your live stock, involving no sacrifice to the stock. It is just this—GRIND YOUR FEED.

Ground feed is readily digested so that the full feed value is utilized and converted into beef, butter, horse power or pork. The saving over feeding whole feed, as already mentioned, amounts to from 12 to 20 per cent, which represents the proportion of whole feed that passes through the intestinal tract undigested—wasted.

GET THE GRINDING HABIT—and do your grinding with an INTERNATIONAL FEED GRINDER.

TODAY WE PRESENT HAROLD TEEN

Also Lillums, Harold's Girl, His Chum, His Rival and Harold's and Lillums's Pa and Ma and the Kid Sisters and Brothers.

Some folks think what is technically known as a "comic strip" is a waste of space in a newspaper. When The Freeman ran the Van Loon Family pictures it received several letters of protest. When it stopped publishing the Van Loon picture it received several letters protesting against their discontinuance. So there you are! Everybody cannot be pleased. The only course is to try to please without offending. The only way to do this is to publish a "comic strip" for those who like it. Those who don't like it need not look at it. That ought to satisfy everybody who has the slightest consideration for the pleasure of the other fellow.

So today and until further notice Freeman readers will daily meet Harold Teen, Lillums, his "girl," his chum, his rival, his parents and the parents of Lillums. Harold Teen, the handsome hero of this, literally, sketch, is seventeen, and conscious of every minute of his age. He's a leader in the high school younger set and a regular fella in every respect, except that he's just nuts about Lillums. Lillums Lovewell is Sponsville's loveliest flapper. She's not sure whether Harold is a grand passion, but she likes to have him round. Lillums gives no evidence of being an intellectual heavyweight but she does uncover a wicked pair of optics. Then we have Buck Magee, sidekick and advisor to Harold. Man o' the world, wears bow ties and funny hats, and is right there every time with the proper thing. Now gaze on Tubby Pennypacker, Harold's hated rival. Tubb is a fathead, but his ol' man has barrels of dough which get Tubby quite a way, even at seventeen. His progress with Lillums gives Harold harassed hours. Meet Pa and Ma Teen the proud parents of our hero. Pa is in that indeterminate stage of opinion about Harold, worried but hoping for the best. Ma refuses to believe that Harold's a man yet, and so gets his goat occasionally. Lillums' Pop and Ma are quite in the shade before their daughter. Pop thinks Lillums is worth more than gold mines, but her admirers get on his nerves once in a while. Ma, however, always looks at the lighter side. And then we have Cyclone and Tuffy, Lillum's li'l bruvvas, a combination of holy terrors that will meet all comers. The exercise their brotherly prerogatives to the limits of low humor when Harold is around. And Josie, Harold's kid sister, all eyes and ears, and as yet devoid in Harold's eyes of the finer sensibilities. Josie never passes up a thing. She is C 2 K everything. And last, but not least, comes Pretty, Lillums' pup. "Just too cute for anyfing!" Harold, loving Lillums, has to love her pooch, hard though it is for a man of spirit.

AT THE THEATRES.

Shirley Mason At Keeney's—Harry Carey at Auditorium.

Shirley Mason in "Merely Mary Ann" is the attraction at Keeney's tonight and is taken from the stage success by Israel Zangwill. Mack Sennett's latest comedy "It's a Boy" is also featured today and contains all the joy, fun and frolic for which his comedies are famous. Tomorrow May Allison in "Held in Trust" the great Red Book Magazine story.

Human Harry Carey will be at the Auditorium tonight in a stirring drama of mines and the woman "West is West" from the famous story by Eugene Manlove Rhodes. "Hidden Dangers" starring Joe Ryan and Jean Paige is also programmed. Tomorrow Buck Jones the new sensation in "Sunset Sprague."

Alice Joyce in her latest starring vehicle, "Cousin Kate," will be the attraction at the Kingston Opera House next Thursday and Friday with a new vaudeville program of three high class acts.

CANVASS VOTE AND BANQUET

Tuesday at 12 o'clock noon the supervisors of Ulster county will meet at their rooms at the court house as a board of county canvassers to canvass the soldier vote cast at the general election held on November 2. There were five votes returned to the board of election commissioners which were sent to the different election districts in which the soldiers who cast votes claimed as their residence. Four of these have been returned to the election board by the district election officers which the county board of canvassers will examine, tabulate and canvass on Tuesday, and they will be added to the canvass of the vote cast in the county which has already been tabulated by the county board, the result having been sent to Albany to the state board of canvassers which will meet on December 29. Immediately after the completion of the work of the county board of canvassers the members will go in adjourned session as a board of supervisors and transact necessary business.

On Tuesday evening, the supervisors, who are all members of the Ulster County Supervisors' Association, with other members who are present and former county officials as well as former supervisors will go to Lake Katrine, where at Cuneo's hotel and restaurant, at 8 o'clock, the annual banquet of the association will be held. Any person desiring transportation to the lake must be at the court house at 7 p. m., where automobiles will be provided to take them and bring them back from the banquet. As the notice to members reads: "Come and have a good time; you may never want to come back."

CLOAK IN FASHION

Garment of Days of Old Returns to the Style List.

Wrap Has Same Distinction and Warmth That Have Followed It Throughout Ages.

There is no dressmaking house so absorbed in the building of frocks that it cannot give attention to cloaks, observes a fashion writer in the New York Herald. The name as well as the garment has returned to fashion. Once we said coats and capes, and even wraps, but today there has crept in the old fashioned word cloak, which we associate as much with men as with women.

The garment of today was worn by men. One can see it in certain student quarters of Europe yet, and it has the same qualities of suppleness, distinction and warmth that have followed it throughout the ages.

It is difficult to imagine an era of tailored coats and skirts when this long mantle is dominant. Surely it would not appear to advantage over something as complete as the American suit. It demands a one-piece frock beneath it and one that yields to the curves of the body.

In variety of cut and treatment these wraps threaten the appeal of new frocks. Once the monastic line, the Pilgrim to Mecca silhouette and arrangement had been established by the French and American designers as the proper one to be exploited this season, attention turned toward the robe which the Mohammedan also wears.

There has been little conformity in the models invented, which seems to proclaim more interest in the thing that is to cover the frock than in the thing that is to actually cover the body. Whatever is offered by the loom is greedily snatched up for a mantle. Brocade and silk damask for the evening duvetyn, homespun, especially the loosely woven rough woolens, some velveteen, fabric fur and actual peltry serve for the sunlight hours.

CHIC GOWN OF SILK METEOR

For the afternoon reception this chic gown of meteor silk, banded with fur, is quite correct and altogether entrancing.

SOME FASHIONS FOR WINTER

Metallic Plush One of the Newest Fabrics—Animal Scarf for Neckwear—Sage Match Hats.

Metallic plush is one of the newest winter fabrics.

The animal scarf is the most popular type of fur neckwear.

The newest French lingerie is fashioned of fine pink and yellow linen.

Appliqué and eyelet embroidery are the new features of the smartest fall blouses.

Duvetyn bags to match hats are frequently seen, and a bag of dull red with gray costumes is a popular novelty.

Black patent leather pumps or dull leather pumps with steel buckles are worn with an afternoon gown of silk.

The continued vogue for collarless dresses is making the manufacture of neck chains very profitable. Some rather massive models are being offered this season.

The smartest footwear from Paris features at least six straps. The new walking shoes are galoshe-like in shape and made of fine kid, fitting smoothly and high over the instep.

Buckles on Evening Slippers.

Pretty buckles to be worn on evening slippers of satin and brocade are the vogue. They are of silver and other metals and are often combined with ribbon crushed flat, or standing out in perky little frills.

Expert at it.

GRAND JURY FINDS 16 INDICTMENTS

After two weeks' work, the December grand jury reported to Judge Nichols in the supreme court this afternoon, handing up sixteen indictments, nine of which were sealed, and two dismissals of complaints.

The report of the grand jury was made by its foreman, Charles C. Upright, and the grand jury was discharged for the term with the thanks of the court.

In the cases in which sealed indictments were reported District Attorney Traver moved that bench warrants be issued, and the defendants will be taken in custody and arraigned later.

Two Cases Dismissed.

The complaints which were dismissed by the grand jury were those against Royal B. Carl for assault in the second degree, charged to have been committed in the town of Woodstock, and against Nelson Cantine, for grand larceny in the second degree, charged to have been committed in the city of Kingston.

The defendants who were in custody were arraigned by District Attorney Traver as follows:

Charged With Bigamy.

Walter C. Carver was arraigned on a charge of bigamy, in having married Pearl A. Clare in the city of Kingston on July 4, 1920, at which time he had a wife living, Carolia R. Clinch, whom he had married at the town of Atlantic Highlands, N. J., on January 21, 1917.

William D. Brinnier appeared for Carver and pleaded not guilty. District Attorney Traver moved that the case be sent to county court for trial, and Judge Nichols fixed bail at $2,000.

Automobile Thieves Indicted.

Albert Burzee, John Frederick, Gordon Purhamus and Raymond Ryan were arraigned on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, in stealing a Ford touring car of the value of $495, the property of William Van Kleeck of Rifton, in this city on December 11. A second count in the indictment charges the same crime, in that they removed the car from North Front street and operated it for their own pleasure, etc., in violation of section 1293-A of the penal code.

These are the four young men who were captured while driving the stolen car on the Ashokan boulevard by Sergeant Edward Ocker and Patrolman David H. Drought, of the water supply police.

Francis C. Merritt appeared for the defendants and entered pleas of not guilty. Bail was fixed at $1,000 in each case, and they were sent to county court for trial.

Ford Car Stolen.

Bartell Erickson was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, in stealing a Ford automobile valued at $200, the property of Sam Kalmar, in the town of Shandaken, on November 20.

Erickson said he had no counsel and had no money. At the suggestion of District Attorney Traver a plea of not guilty was entered and Judge Nichols will assign counsel. Bail was fixed at $1,000.

Wawarsing Larceny Case.

Shelby Marks was arraigned on a charge of grand larceny in the second degree, in stealing $60, a revolver and a suit case, the property of Milton J. Lapp, at the town of Wawarsing on October 2.

Marks said he had no counsel and at District Attorney Traver's suggestion a plea of not guilty was entered. Counsel will be assigned later. Bail was fixed at $1,000.

Kingston Assault Cases.

Augustus Elmendorf was arraigned on a charge of rape in the second degree, with a second count in the indictment for assault in the second degree, alleged to have been committed on Anna May West, 17 years old, in the city of Kingston on October 30.

Ray Van Buren was arraigned on a charge of assault in the second degree, alleged to have been committed on Anna May West, 17 years old, in the city of Kingston on October 30.

Elmendorf said that William D. Brinnier, Jr., was his counsel but that he was out of town. A plea of not guilty was entered and the case sent to county court. Bail was fixed at $2,000.

Charles D. [illegible] appeared for Van Buren and pleaded not guilty. Bail was fixed at $2,000, and the case sent to county court.

Indicted For Gambling.

Nicholas Schermerhorn was indicted for being a common gambler in violation of Section 970 of the penal law in that he furnished room and tables for gambling from September 1 to date of indictment. He was represented by Chris J. Flanagan who entered a plea of not guilty. Bail was fixed at $1,000 and the case sent to county court.

Rebecca Melanedman

Visible and tragic proof of the excesses of the pogroms in Central Europe came before a board of special inquiry at the Ellis Island immigration station recently when Rebecca Melanedman, sixteen years old, a pretty Jewess from the Ukraine, appeared before the authorities with an empty sleeve. She told of how her father and mother had been shot dead in the streets of Katalegrad and how she had been wounded which later necessitated the amputation of her right arm while trying to recover their bodies.

KINGSTON, N. Y., DEC. 20, 1920.

The blue Sunday lawmakers will have some job on their hands when they undertake to stop sleeping during the sermon.

Sweet are the uses of adversity. The Japs are said to concede that they are too poor to undertake to whip America with good prospects of putting the job over.

A siniser significance is attached to another color now that "blue" laws are objected to as tending to increase the "red" menace.

In one column we read of a "crisis of unemployment" and in the next of bricklayers who once laid 1,200 bricks a day for $3 and now lay 541 bricks a day for $10. An interesting study in cause and effect.

It is not definitely established that the pension system breeds centenarians, but in 1920, 73 years after the close of the Mexican war, 148 veterans of that struggle are still drawing pensions and 2,423 widows of such are also receiving government aid.

The Anti-Saloon League is said to wish it to be distinctly understood that it is promoting neither Sabbatarianism nor measures to suppress tobacco. Taking time by the forelock is good politics, for there is no telling what might happen should the increasing popular restiveness decide to take the bit in its teeth.

If 98 per cent of the Greeks have voted for King Constantine, as reported, the Allies would do well to keep their hands off "self-determination" to that extent, however deplorable it may be and no matter how uninterrupted is the henpecking of Constantine by the former Kaiser's sister.

MONEY IN THE MOVIES.

The highbrow who sneers at the "movies" as having no claim to be considered a form of art is at least compelled to accept the fact that a successful photoplay is a gold mine for its producer as well as a means of entertaining millions of people. This is made evident not only by the fabulous salaries paid to screen stars, which have been verified in court proceedings, but by the recent disclosure that the producing corporation employing the late Olive Thomas has been able to collect $170,000 insurance on her life.

Although she was not one of the more prominent stars and pleased by her good looks rather than by histrionic abilities, such was the enormous and conceded value of the loss to her employer in the event of her death. If insurance companies are willing to pay $170,000 in the case of Olive Thomas, they would hardly be staggered by demands running up into the millions in the case of the most widely popular stars such as Charlie Chaplin and Mary Pickford. It really looks as if "movie" is to become an accepted synonym for money.

A SUPER-NAVY.

In the matter of armament are we really obliged to keep up the pace that kills—the taxpayers? This question is likely to occur to the thoughtful observer on reading that a nation which in 1915 appropriated in round numbers $101,000,000 for its army and $145,000,000 for its navy is now asked to provide more than $699,000,000 for its war department and $658,000,000 for its navy department, exclusive of fortifications and military academy bills. Our 3-year naval building program of 1917 was justified because of war and the uncertainty as to how long it would last. The Secretary of the Navy then said of that program that it was "big enough to assure America incomparably the strongest navy in the world." Then why another similar program two years after the armistice and at a time when Great Britain, our only real competitor, "has practically stopped building warships and has reduced her fleet to a minimum?"

The Secretary's answer in advance is that "if the United States is not to enter into any agreement with the other nations of the earth which are now bound together in the League of Nations," he feels "compelled to approve the recommendation of the General Board that Congress authorize another 3-year program, to begin as soon as the capital ships under construction are launched." But why? The League of Nations is not a menace to the peace of this country or of the world and seeks to be the very opposite, and even without the aid of the United States may be able to accomplish some part of its purpose. Surely it will not attack us, nor is any single nation likely to do so after seeing our government promptly put two million soldiers in France and hold two millions more in readiness to go. To continue arming in prodigious fashion will not only oppress our taxpayers, but do injury to the effort toward armament reduction and the accomplishment of world-peace.

ALLOWS SMITH TO RUN BUS LINE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Dec. 20.—The public service commission, second district, under orders issued Saturday, certifies that public convenience and necessity require operation by John F. Smith of auto bus lines in the town of Lloyd, Ulster county, as part of a line between Highland and Marlborough, and between Kingston and Highland.

There was opposition to the granting of the certificates at hearings before Commissioner George R. Van Namee by the New Paltz, Highland and Poughkeepsie Traction Co., and John A. DuBois, another auto bus operator.

Commissioner Van Namee holds that public convenience and necessity do not require operation of a route paralleling the trolley line. Smith and the opposing trolley line agreed upon a plan of operation, Smith agreeing not to take on passengers between points where he would directly compete with the trolley line.

"The commission," says Commissioner Van Namee, "will not hesitate to grant certificates where the operation will involve direct competition with existing electric railways when it appears that the railway is not solving the local transportation problem satisfactorily. But that situation does not seem to be before us so far as the route paralleling the trolley line between Highland and Highland Landing is concerned."

PORT EWEN.

Port Ewen, Dec. 20.—William Warner is visiting his sister, Mrs. Oswald Neher, and his father, John Warner, of Bayard street, before leaving for Florida, where he will spend the winter.

The solo song by Miss Jennie Stephenson entitled "What Did It Mean," at the morning service in the Methodist church, was beautifully rendered.

Rehearsals will be held this evening and Tuesday evening for the Christmas entertainment to be held in the Methodist Church Thursday evening, December 23, given by the members of the Sunday school.

The friends of Mrs. J. A. Decker will be pleased to know that she is improving from her recent sickness, and was able to sit up Sunday.

TABASCO.

Tabasco, Dec. 20.—On account of another entertainment to be held on December 23, Miss Krom and scholars will hold their entertainment on Wednesday evening, December 22, at the school house. Refreshments will be served after. Proceeds for the school. All are welcome.

The party held at Asa Wynkoop's on Saturday evening was largely attended and everyone reported a jolly good time.

Some of our young people attended the party at Norman Quick's on Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wynkoop and son, Kenneth, and Myron Terwilliger motored to New Paltz on Sunday and spent the day with Elvin Mertine and family. They also called on the former's brother, Homer Wynkoop, and wife.

Mrs. A. Redelsky of Newburgh spent last week with her grandparents, Joseph Van Vliet and wife. Mrs. Redelsky was formerly Miss Celia Hinkley of this place.

Russel Gray will leave for Miami, Florida, on December 22, to spend the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Rodberg, Mrs. Jerry Van Kleeck and Mr. Wilcokey spent Wednesday at Ellenville.

Esther Wynkoop visited Miss Hattie Kelder on Sunday.

PALENTOWN.

Palentown, Dec. 20.—Mrs. H. J. Trane is able to be around again after being lame for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Reeves are on the gain after a sickness of a week, under the care of Dr. Damond of Olive Bridge.

John Trane helped Eustace Gray bring his car from Ellenville one day last week.

Vernon Keator is gaining rapidly under the treatment of Dr. G. F. Chandler of Kingston.

Homer J. Trane and sons have finished making cider for this season.

City guests have arrived at Feltman's Rest for the holidays.

MOVIES OF N. Y. FOOD MARKETS

New York, Dec. 20.—The completion of a moving picture, showing how New York city gets its food supply, was announced today by Dr. Eugene H. Porter, state commissioner.

The picture was produced under the direction of the state division of foods and markets and is intended to give both farmers and city people an idea of the channels of transportation and distribution through which fresh fruits and vegetables pass before they reach the consumer. It is purely an educational film without any propaganda for any particular scheme of improving present conditions, but Dr. Porter considers that it will be a great help in bringing about a better understanding of the marketing problems of the city and state.

Those who see the film are saved the discomforts of being out all night to observe the night life of the New York wholesale markets. Many will realize for the first time what volume of produce is moved through the congested market section of lower Manhattan in a few hours after midnight in order that the vast population of the city and environs may be fed each day. The rushing to and fro of longshoremen unloading freight cars on floats, the crowd of jobbers and storekeepers pushing in to the railroad pier building as the doors open at 3:30 a. m., the hurrying of trucks and wagons to take the goods away half an hour later, all tend to thrill one with a sense of the activity that goes on while most of the city sleeps.

The picture includes the New Jersey freight yards, floats crossing the river, unloading at the piers, exciting scenes at the California fruit auction, views of congested Wall street and West Washington street, the various farmers' markets and jobbing section, and finally, retail store and an apartment breakfast table. The breakfast table, in fact, appears all through the picture, for the story is in the form of a description of a family at breakfast of the places through which the fruits and vegetables purchased that morning, at the corner store before breakfast, have passed in the course of the night.

A portion of the picture will be shown during this week at the Rialto Theater, at Times Square, as a part of its regular program. Arrangements are being made to show the entire film in other parts of the city later. Prints of it will be loaned without cost to moving picture theaters, schools and civic organizations. Groups interested in market problems may secure the film through application to the State Division of Foods and Markets, 90 West Broadway, New York city.

ROSENDALE.

Rosendale, Dec 20.—The annual fair and chicken supper held at All Saints' parish house on Thursday evening was well attended by the village folks and several from out of town, and was also a financial success.

Mrs. Hedley and three children arrived in this village the past week from Troy, and at present are occupying rooms in the residence of Miss Fannie Ten Hagen.

Miss Helena Clearwater and Mrs. Scott Hornbeck of Kingston were guests of friends in this village recently.

Mrs. Urban, an aged resident of this village, is confined to her home on James street by illness.

Miss Ethel Bowen of Poughkeepsie spent the past week end with relatives in this village.

Patrick Reilly is a guest of his brother here.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sammons, who have been visiting relatives in New York city the past two weeks, have returned home.

Mrs. John Osterhoudt returned to her home in Walden on Thursday evening after spending the week with her parents.

Howard Roosa, who has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Louise B. Roosa, for several weeks, left for his home in Evansville, Indiana, on Thursday morning.

John Ollry visited Kingston on Friday.

James Hasbrouck is still confined to his home on James street.

A hot pork supper will be served by the women of the Baptist Church in the church parlors on Tuesday evening, December 21. A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

Samuel Van Tassell and family of Cornwall-on-the-Hudson motored to this village on Sunday last.

Miss Mabel McLaughlin, who is employed at Atlantic City, is spending her annual vacation with her mother in this village.

Charles Proper of Brooklyn was a visitor to this place recently. It is rumored Mr. Proper talks of running a bus line from this village to Kingston the coming summer.

The Ladies' Aid met at the home of Mrs. Abram Quick on Thursday afternoon, December 16. The meeting was well represented by the members and after the business session a social hour was enjoyed by all present. Mrs. Quick served delicious coffee and cake. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Paul Ullrich on Depot Hill on December 30.

Paul Palen of Connecticut has been spending a few days here the past week. Mr. Palen was a resident of this village many years and his many friends were glad to see him back.

Mrs. Lavina Alliger left on Wednesday to spend the holidays with relatives in Ellenville.

Several friends of Miss Gertrude Keator were entertained at her home in this village on Wednesday evening. A most enjoyable time was had by all present. The guests departed for their homes at midnight voting Miss Keator a royal hostess.

Miss Lulu Slater of Kingston attended the supper at All Saints' parish house on Thursday evening.

Harold Beauvais, who has been confined to his home by sickness, is much improved at this writing.

M. J. DAVIS HEADS COUNTY DAIRYMEN

The annual meeting of the Ulster County branch of the Dairymen's League was held at the court room at the court house Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The following were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, Millard J. Davis of Kerhonkson, vice president, William Houghtaling of Wallkill; treasurer, George Dusinberre, Modena; secretary Chester Freer, Kerhonkson.

No assessments were laid on the branch associations, as the treasurer announced that there were sufficient funds on hand to meet the expenses for another year. Chester Young the director of the Dairymen's League, recently elected at Utica for a number of counties, was given full power to have the pooling contracts signed in the county of Ulster.

And Let Him Join Congregation—Miss Hannenburg Barred.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Passaic, N. J., Dec. 2?—The Rev. Cornelius Densel, former clergyman of the First Netherlands Reformed Church who went away with a fair young member of his congregation but returned a month later begging forgiveness, probably will be reinstated as a member of the congregation but not as pastor it was learned today. The consistory which has been considering the case will make a report tonight. It is believed that Dr. Densel will be taken back into the fold but reprimanded for his weakness. Miss Trina Hannenburg the woman in the case, has been dropped from the church.

SERVICE RECORD OF NATION

City, County and State Histories Will Afford Voluminous and Valuable Data.

If the present progress in making county and city and state war histories is maintained, there will be a vast library of local "who-was-who in the war" books by the year 2020.

Not only are towns, counties and states preparing their own war histories, but colleges and schools of all kinds are getting up collective service records. Large industrial concerns are doing the same thing.

Best results in [illegible] making seem to have been achieved in counties where the records of the county draft board served as a starting point and where all other sources of information have been utilized. Livingston county, Illinois, furnishes a typical example of a county which has been painstaking in its effort to compile a reliable war history.

A committee of women was appointed in this county to take charge of the soldiers' and sailors' record. Before the records of the local exemption board were closed, a list was compiled of all registrants of the county who had entered the service by enlistment or induction [illegible] [illegible]

Carefully Marking Name of Giver on Each Xmas Gift Before Placing 'em in Attic Prevents Confusion Next Xmas When You Send 'em Out as Gifts to Friends.

"She sent him a Christmas gift
All wrapped in sprigs of holly.
'From her,' he cried, as the gift he untied
And then—yep, he swore, he did, by golly."

"That is how the Higginsville bard poetically expresses the sentiments of the big army who receive Christmas presents," said the busy barber, with a jovial grin.

"And how about the equally big army that makes 'em?" inquired the customer.

"They split fifty fifty," replied the barber, "and as one expressed it, 'do your Christmas swapping early.'

"I know there has always been an ancient wheeze about Christmas being only a day of swapping," said the customer, "but they seem to lose sight of the real meaning of the day, which to my mind is to try and make your friends and neighbors happy."

"Well said," approved the barber, "and in that connection I would always advise that before placing unwelcome holiday gifts in the attic you never forget to carefully mark on the wrapper the date, name and address of the giver, and in that way you avoid considerable confusion and the breaking of friendship ties when you come to use 'em for holiday gifts next season."

"That's not such a bad idea at that," replied the customer.

"Oh, I'm full of good ideas," replied the barber, modestly, "but I don't take any credit for that idea, but pass it on for what it is worth."

"You were always noted for giving away nothing more substantial than ideas," said the customer, somewhat sarcastically.

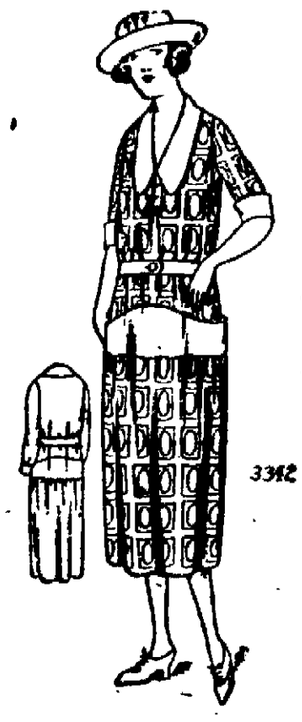

"Well," retorted the barber, "I never heard of you seeing to it that some neighbor not as well off as yourself had an enjoyable holiday."

"That so," said the customer, "well I would have, you understand that while I may not do such a thing personally I always make it a point to contribute something in the Salvation Army kettles."

"And that is not a bad idea at all," replied the barber heartily.

THE STROLLER.

OUR DAILY PATTERN.

A Popular One Piece Model.

Pattern 3342 is here portrayed. It is cut in 3 sizes: 16, 18 and 20 years. A 16 year size will require 4¾ yards of 36 inch material. The width of the skirt at lower edge is 1¾ yard.

Jersey cloth in a new weave was used for this design. It is attractive in sports silk, taffeta, pongee, linen, serge, gingham, percale, or gabardine.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 12c in coin or 1c and 2c stamps by the Pattern Department, The Freeman, Rondout, N. Y. Be sure to state the size wanted.

GRAND GORGE.

Grand Gorge, Dec. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McDermott and daughter spent the week end with relatives in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ketterhouse were Sunday visitors in West Hurley.

Mrs. J. A. Guthrie has been spending a few days in Kingston.

Mrs. E. V. Boswell spent a few days in Kingston.

Mrs. DeWitt C. Hulst and daughter, Dorothy, were Kingston visitors during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Murphy are spending the week in New York city.

Mayhem Warren met with a very painful accident when a storage battery he was repairing in the garage of Charles Tompkins exploded filling his eyes with acid. Prompt medical attention by Dr. Vogt probably prevented the accident from being very serious.

A Community Christmas entertainment will be given by the children of the Sunday school, assisted by the Methodist and Reformed Churches in the Odd Fellows' Hall on Friday evening, December 24. A silver collection will be taken for the benefit of the churches.

Mrs. S. K. Clapp was a business visitor in Kingston on Thursday.

Hard to Estimate One's Powers.

It is just as hard for a man to estimate his own powers, except by performance, as it is for him to estimate those of another. The feeling of power seems to be no guide at all. The world is full of egotistical fools who seem to feel genuinely sure that they were born to high destiny, while many [illegible] can scarcely believe in their own powers, even after they have displayed them.—Exchange.

Mother.

When Eve was brought unto Adam, he became filled with the Holy Spirit, and gave her the most sanctified, the most glorious of appellations. He called her Eve—that is to say, the Mother of All. He did not style her wife, but simply mother—mother of all living creatures. In this consists the glory and the most precious ornament of woman.—Martin Luther.

Measuring Fixed Stars.

For many years it was thought impossible to measure the fixed stars. The ablest astronomers, with the best glasses, tried and failed. When the [illegible] triumph came it was not some [illegible] that attracted the most attention [illegible] whose distance from the sun was found, but an insignificant sixth magnitude star not far from [illegible], which had only [illegible] number, 61 Cygni, for a name.

MIXUP IN CHICAGO OPERA

"Zaza" Postponed and "World's Wealthiest Prima Donna" Leaves for New York—Gossip Wonders What Her Husband Had to Do With It.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—Postponement of the premiere of "Zaza" by the Chicago Opera Company, which was to have taken place tomorrow night, and the sudden departure for New York of Mme. Ganna Walska, "the world's most wealthy prima donna," who was to have sung the title role, gave rise today to a flood of conflicting rumors.

Announcement was made by officials of the opera company that the postponement was due to inability of the company to do the vast amount of preparatory work necessary to the successful production of the opera. It was said that Mme. Walska had gone to New York for the holidays.

Mme. Walska is the wife of Alexander Smith Cochran of New York, whose reputed fortune of $80,000,000 caused him to be known as "the world's richest bachelor." It had been declared that Cochran objected to the prima donna appearing in the rather daring role of Zaza. Cochran spent several days in Chicago but returned to New York a day before the singer did.

Mme Walska is reported to have said "If my husband should object to my singing—well, not for long would he be my husband."

BANK OPEN EVENINGS

To Accommodate New Christmas Club Members.

In order to accommodate the many who were members this year, and those who wish to join the popular Christmas Club that will be run in 1921, the Kingston Trust Company will be kept open at 318 Broadway near West Shore crossing, and at corner Fair and Main streets, every evening this week from 7 to 8 o'clock, excepting Christmas. This will be done to accommodate customers and friends who do not find it convenient to call at the banking house during regular banking hours. Christmas accounts may be opened with the Kingston Trust Company whereby a person may save either 50 cents, one, two or five dollars a week and receive a check about two weeks before Christmas next year for all money so saved.

COTTEKILL.

Cottekill, Dec. 20.—On Wednesday evening, December 22, a Community Christmas service will be held in the Cottekill Reformed Church, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Everybody living in the community around this church is cordially invited to attend this service, no matter what church they belong to, or whether they don't belong to any church. We want you to come out and meet with us. We are going to sing a lot of hymns, ones that are familiar to everybody, and we want you to help us sing them. The Rev. Longwith will be present and make an address. We will have a Christmas tree, and a Santa Claus. Candy for all the young people and ice cream and cake will be free for everyone present. After the refreshments a social hour will be enjoyed. Come out and help us celebrate, you will be made welcome. If very stormy, then one Thursday evening at the same hour.

Ask 10 Cent Fare.

Application for a ten-cent fare has been made by the Poughkeepsie and Wappingers Falls Street Railways Company to the public service commission of the second district. The request is made on the grounds that the revenue for the twelve months expiring October 1 showed that there was but $24,362 left with which to pay the interest on the value of the road. This is a return of 2.4 per cent. A lively fight against the increase is anticipated.

Pilgrim Fathers Were Separatists.

The Puritans sought the reform of the Church of England. The Pilgrims were Separatists from the first who had already left England and formed an independent congregation at Leyden, whence they came to New England. They numbered forty-one families, 102 persons, landing at Plymouth December 21, 1620. They had previously made a covenant known as the Mayflower covenant, which bound them into a civil state with a religious basis. They wished to found "a church without a bishop and a state without a king."

AN INVESTMENT IN USEFULNESS

WITH the Franklin, motoring is practical and unrestricted—in every sense. Gasoline goes so far, tires last so long, and repairs are so infrequent, that expense is at a minimum.

Franklin light weight, flexibility and direct air cooling make the car so comfortable and easy to handle, and so free from cooling and tire worries, that no road is too rough, no extreme of heat or cold too severe.

ONE CAUSE OF CRIME WAVE

May Be Treating of Youthful First Offenders Same as Hardened Criminals, Says Jail Commission Report.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Dec. 20. The crime wave overrunning the country and particularly the east is not due entirely to old and hardened criminals.

An investigation by the state commission of prisons and jails show this:

"A deplorable commentary on the times and the wave of serious crime which seems to be sweeping over the country, was found in a complete test of boys 17 to 20 years old one in an army and another in a navy uniform in the city prison, Brooklyn, charged with burglary, grand larceny, homicide and other serious felonies," declares a report drafted by John S. Kennedy, president of the commission, made public today.

"Many of the youngsters," says Kennedy's report, "are first offenders charged with crimes which are not serious and when they finally reach court, are put on probation. However the imprisonment of these boys in city prisons cannot but have a serious effect on their minds for the rest of their lives, either leaving an impression of horror of being locked in jail or a spirit of bravado, causing them to boast to their companions and oftimes proves to be the first step toward a life of crime.

"There has been considerable discussion as to whether the age of boys and girls to be sent to the children's court should not be raised from 16 to 18 years, and with actual conditions as found in these prisons there seems to be a strong argument for such action."

RIFENBARY STOPPED OVER.

Kingston Singer Member of Ablest Men's Choir in America.

Chester E. Rifenbary visited his home in this city last Saturday while on his way to New York city to sing with the Harvard Glee Club in Aeolian Hall on Sunday afternoon. There were over six hundred applicants for the club this fall and but one hundred were retained. Mr. Rifenbary was one of fifty-three singers chosen to sing in New York.

This club is considered by musical critics in New York and Boston to be the ablest men's choir in America. Mr. Aldrich in the New York Times said the Sunday afternoon concert, emphasizing under the direction of Dr. Archibald T. Davison, was a revelation to New York audiences.

The club is noted for its effective singing of the old Latin numbers of Palestinia, Allegri, Lotti and Carissini, the program also contained numbers of Bach, Brahms, Rubinstein, Schumann, Buck, Dupare, Mendelssohn, Morley and Handel.

During the Christmas vacation Mr. Rifenbary with sixty members of the club will sing in Cleveland, Chicago, Kansas City, St. Louis, Louisville, Ky., Pittsburgh, Pa., and Buffalo.

SMITH ADMITS ONE MISTAKE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Dec. 20. It takes a big man to admit he has made a mistake. Two years ago, when Governor Alfred E. Smith assumed the position of chief executive of New York state, he advocated the abolishment of the New York State Constabulary. On his retirement from office this same governor declares "It is the most essential department of the state."

Commissioned officers of the troopers, on behalf of the 232 members of that body, will bid farewell to Governor Smith in the executive chamber at noon on December 29. Major George F. Chandler has issued orders for the appearance of all commissioned officers at the Smith farewell.

A warm personal friendship has sprung up between the two men in the last two years in spite of the fact that Governor Smith in his first message to the legislature said—"I believe you can abolish the Department of State Police. There seems to be no justification for its further existence. The return to the state is not commensurate with the cost."

Today the governor says: "It is the most essential department of the state, and if you do not believe I have changed my opinion ask the superintendent of the force. He will tell you there is no stronger advocate of the constabulary than I am. You know it would be impossible for a man to put in two years as governor without making mistakes. I am a little different from most of them, though, I guess, I am willing to acknowledge mine."

A. M. E. CHURCH RAISES $1,547

The Franklin Street A. M. E. Church people definitely closed their rally for funds for the year on Saturday evening, when it was announced that $147.28 had been added to the amount previously announced, making a total of $1,547.28. Captain George Johnson was credited with $10 more. Captain E. O. Clark with $6 more. Captain James Crowell with $21.50 additional. Captain William Van Dyke $5, Captain James Ray, $6.60, Captain T. T. Poteat, $11, Captain George W. Banks, $1, and Captain Dennis Johnson, 50 cents more.

The chicken supper held Friday evening given by Mrs. Carrie Crowell, was a most decided success in every particular. $59.70 being realized. Mrs. Crowell was an ardent worker during the rally for funds and was most successful in managing and getting up entertainments. Pastor Clark desires to thank the public through the press for the splendid cooperation given by it in making the rally the grand success it was, and especially thanks those who personally contributed on his book.

SEASONABLE GOOD THINGS.

With venison in season, there is no more delicious tidbit than roast saddle of venison. Usually the meat lacks fat and this should be supplied by larding with small strips of salt pork, cut in narrow strips near to the rind, as that part of the pork is firmer. An onion, a carrot or two, finely chopped and cooked with the meat and removed before serving adds greatly to its flavor. Any wild game is improved by such seasoning.

Potato Dumplings.—Sift together one and one-half cupfuls of flour, five teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, three teaspoonfuls of butter, one-half cupful of riced potato, one egg beaten light and three-fourths of a cup of milk. Mix all the ingredients, roll in a sheet and cut in rounds. Set close in a buttered steamer and cook over water or meat 15 minutes. Do not open the steamer nor allow the water to cease boiling during the cooking.

Citron Melon Preserve.—Cut the melon in quarters and the quarters in smaller pieces, remove the rind and cut in cubes or in such shapes as may be wished. Cover the prepared melon with cold water, adding two tablespoonfuls of salt to each quart of cold water and let stand over night. Drain, rinse in cold water and drain again, then cook until tender in boiling water. Drain again and weigh. For each pound of material allow three-fourths of a pound of sugar, half an ounce of ginger, stems or Canton, and one lemon. Slice the lemons and discard the seeds; slice or crush the ginger stems and cook separately in boiling water until tender. Make a sirup of the sugar and water drained from the lemons and ginger; skim, add the melon and let cook until plump and transparent. Skim the melon from the sirup. To the sirup add the lemon and ginger and let cook until a rich sirup is formed; add the citron, heat to boiling and seal in jars.

Care of a Sick Child.

That the mind affects the body is generally admitted. That the body also affects the mind is equally true, and is particularly noticeable in the case of a sick child which, of course, makes no effort to conceal its feelings. A child's state of mind, therefore, is a good indication of its health. According to Dr. A. Levinson of Chicago, a child's illness may be diagnosed to a certain extent by its mental symptoms and it cannot be properly cared for except by one who understands the psychology of a sick child.—Denver Times.

An accredited school is a school which has proven that its courses are satisfactory and that its graduates are capable of a certain educational standing which is required by higher institutions. These schools are passed upon by accrediting associations and by the boards of colleges.

Treasure Trove.

Eight pieces of early English tapestry, said to be worth anything from $250,000 to $500,000, were recently discovered in Gloucestershire, England, packed away in a bedroom, occupied by the butler. They bear the date 1595, and are claimed to be the most important works from the Sheldon Looms (founded by William Sheldon in the middle of the Sixteenth century), which have ever come into the market. The best-known panels are the huge maps in the Victoria and Albert museum, panels with figures and verdures being rare.

A Bird of a Pun.

The prize for the season's worst pun goes to Christopher Morley. Observing four ladies waiting outside a pay car on a siding, ready to "bone" the men as they come out for a contribution to some, doubtless, worthy cause, he paraphrastically commented: "Where the car-cash is, there are the mulct yers."—Boston Transcript.

Father Is Appreciative.

A striking tribute to the Legion's humanitarianism was recently paid by J. J. Gaier of Clarksburg, W. Va., in an address at exercises under the auspices of the Parrish post of that city. Mr. Gaier told how his son contracted tuberculosis in the service and was discharged and sent to his home in a dying condition. The Legion's service division at national headquarters took charge of the case, obtained proper medical treatment and compensation and back pay. "Today, through the efforts of the American Legion," the father said, "my son is living and everything is in as good condition as could be expected. Any movement that has for its object the extending of the helping hand to comrades in need is a noble and worthy movement." The address was published in full in the Potters Herald, official journal of the National Brotherhood of Operative Potters and East Liverpool (O.) Trade and Labor council.

Use of Electricity Increases.

Sweden proposes to electrify the Gothenburg and Stockholm railways; Chile, following the example of other European countries and Japan, is preparing to operate a section of the state railways with electricity. The government proposes to float a loan of 32 million dollars, partly abroad and partly in the country, for this purpose. It is expected that this movement will reduce railway operating expenses by three million or four million dollars annually.

German Women Students.

There are 7,724 women students at the various German universities. Of these 2,080 are studying medicine, bringing the total of medical students up to 22,000. Before the war Germany had one physician for every 2,000 inhabitants. She now has one for every 1,500 inhabitants, and fears that in a short while there will be one for every 1,000.

CONSTANTINE REACHES ATHENS

Anti-Monarchist Rising Fails and Capital Gives Royalty Tremendous Ovation—King and Queen Weep on Reaching Palace.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Athens, Dec. 20.—An attempt to institute an anti-monarchist demonstration in Thrace, following the arrival of King Constantine from Lucerne, failed today.

A tremendous ovation was given the royal party upon its arrival from Corinth. A huge sum had been spent for decorations and the city was in complete gala attire. The celebration will continue until tomorrow night.

Constantine and Queen Sophie wept with delight when they reached the palace.

They were escorted from the railway station by a tremendous crowd. There must have been nearly 200,000 persons in it. The streets were packed. Most of the buildings were draped with flags.

The anti-royalist movement was headed by General Zambrakis. He is said to have fled towards Constantinople, accompanied by seventy of his adherents.

Constantine was given an ovation from the time he stepped from shipboard at Phaleron. Sea sickness among members of the royal family made it necessary to change the program at Phaleron, which was regarded by some of the superstitious as an ill omen.

There were some Americans, British and French warships in port at Phaleron, but they withdrew before the ship bearing Constantine arrived.

London, Dec. 20.—The clerics of the Greek Catholic Church in London today refused to celebrate a Te Deum to celebrate the return of Constantine to Athens.

The Daily Chronicle understands that the British, French and Italian ministers here have been instructed to have no official dealings with Constantine's government and probably will leave Athens at once.

Y. M. C. A. open house day and evening Saturday January 1, will be well attended, according to present indications. Every department will be running full tinie. Basketball, volley ball and bowling games will be scheduled during the day and evening. It is desired that the public have an opportunity of inspecting the building from the dormitory floor to the basement and for this reason the house committee has arranged for a reception committee to show all throughout the building.

The ladies of the auxiliary composed of members of various churches, will have charge of the reception and entertainment. The public is most cordially invited to enjoy the privileges of the building. Light refreshments will be served. A musical program will be a special feature.

T. B. Comforts Exhibited at Carl's.

Tomorrow the knitted comfort made and given by the Lowell Club and its friends for the Tuberculosis Hospital Christmas will be exhibited in the window of the Herbert Carl millinery store (Rose, Gorman & Rose) through the courtesy of Mr. Carl. A little later others of the comforts will be exhibited at the same place.

Send Gifts by Wednesday.

All those who wish to participate in the pleasure of giving Christmas cheer to the old people at the City Home are asked to have their gifts at the home of Mrs. Thomas Hayes, 18 O'Neil street, this city, by Wednesday of this week. A few more gifts of Christmas tree decorations would be very acceptable.

BRITAIN FEARS INDIAN TROUBLE

Russians Advance Toward Border And Inkling of Simmering Revolt Is Given in Revelation of 2,000 British Killed or Captured.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Dec. 20.—The advance of the Russian Bolshevik army into the Tabriz section of Persia is again causing fears over India, which has long been simmering with an undercurrent of insurrection.

A British army is being maintained in Persia as a bulwark against an advance by the Russian Reds to Afghanistan and India.

There have been persistent reports that India will be the next great seat of trouble in the British Empire and that it might even eclipse Ireland. The situation is said to be worse than is indicated by the carefully guarded dispatches from Simla, Bombay and Calcutta. The Mantague plan for extending the self-government of the people of India met with much opposition and strikes and boycotts have been in force throughout the whole country.

The Evening Standard makes the astounding revelation that in four border districts nearly 2,000 British persons were killed, wounded or captured. The total casualties from raids, based upon these figures, would be tremendous.

More Lehigh and Hudson Stock.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The interstate commerce commission today granted authority to the Lehigh and Hudson Railway to issue additional capital stock to the extent of $2,987,000, the proceeds to be used for retirement of bonds.

ULSTER GENERAL TAX TABLE

Henry R. DeWitt, clerk of the board of supervisors, has compiled and tabulated the general tax table of Ulster county which shows the quotas to be raised for various purposes, the total tax, and the general tax rate per dollar in the towns and villages, the town highway rate and the village highway rate. The rate in the City of Kingston is not given as the budget has not been adopted by the common council which has to be approved by the mayor. The general tax table as compiled by Clerk DeWitt is as follows:

* General Tax Rate (Town and Village). † Town Highway Rate. ‡ Village Highway Rate.

While from a first glance it appears the aggregate rates in the towns are high, a comparison with years before the world war shows the rate increase is small. An instance is that of the town of Hurley, where the total tax rate for 1920 is but 17 cents per thousand more than it was in 1915.

PART OF STEEL TOWERS ARRIVES

This morning two sections of one of the big steel towers from which will be suspended the bridge across the Rondout creek arrived here on a flat car, and work of unloading was started. The two sections received are part of the massive foundations and are of solid steel and painted red. There will be two huge steel towers, one on each side of the creek, from which the bridge proper will be strung. Each tower will be 155 feet in height. The steel men are trusting that the favorable weather will continue so that progress may be made on the construction work.

Land of Secret Societies.

China is the land of secret societies. They are numbered by the score, and their members by millions. Many of them have strange names, such as "The White Lilies," "The Red Door" and "The One-Piece Incense."

And Hang It in the Trophy Room.

A pike weighing twenty-six pounds, upon being hooked by a Cheshire fisherman, pulled him in the canal. His escape was much regretted by the fish, who had decided to have him stuffed.—London Punch.

COLONIAL LEAGUE GAMES.

Two Fast Contests on Schedule for Wednesday Night.

There are two fast games of basketball scheduled for Wednesday evening in the Colonial League at St Peter's Hall when the Eagles clash with the Centrals and St. Peter's play at St. Mary's. The Centrals and the Eagles are tied for second place in the league and will endeavor to break the tie that evening.

Peculiar London Names.

London Town (England) has many curious names incorporated in its streets and squares which embody strange incidents or are of peculiar origin. The derivations of the name of the city itself would fill a page but one authority gives the name as derived from the Celtic Llan-dun, City of the Moon, and tradition has it that there was once a temple of Diana where St. Paul's now stands. Similarly Greenwich is supposed to be derived from Grian-wick, also Celtic, meaning City of the Sun. London is also to be derived from Lud's Town, so called from Lud, said to be a mythical king of Britain.

Ultraviolet Rays.

For some years ultraviolet rays have been used for sterilizing water, milk and other fluids. The idea has now been applied to the disinfecting of barrels and casks.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of the stockholders of The William J. FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman

New York, Dec. 20. After some irregularity at the opening today, the stock market again turned decidedly weak, many issues showing losses of from fractions to over points. Steel Common after advancing to 78⅞, fell to 78½ and Crucible Steel sold up to 82 and then dropped to 80¼. Baldwin Locomotive fell 1 point to 85⅝. International Paper was under heavy pressure and yielded over points to 45½.

Bethlehem Steel B after advancing ¾, dropped 1 point to 50⅝, Mexican Petroleum opened 1½ higher at 158 and then dropped to 1.5½. American Beet Sugar was 2 points lower at 36. American Sugar was over 1 point lower at the new low record for the year of 82¾. New York Central responded to the rate decision handed down on Saturday with an advance of 1⅛ to 69, but quickly yielded with the rest of the list. Royal Dutch was off 1½ to 54½.

There was little change during the early forenoon. American Beet Sugar sold off further to 35¼. The rails were without special feature. Steel Common rallied to 78⅞.

The market closed weak, government bonds unchanged, railway and other bonds steady.

MISSING MEN BEING SOUGHT

Relatives and Friends Are Anxious to Hear From Those Who Know Facts.

A number of additional war mysteries have been announced by the nationwide campaign to clear up all doubt as to the fate of men missing in the World conflict. Any persons having information as to the circumstances surrounding the death or disappearance of the following men are urged to communicate with the Gold Star relatives or friends:

[illegible]

It is reported from Reno that Mrs. John D. Spreckles, Jr., wife of the wealthy Californian, has [illegible] a residence there as "Mrs. Smith." Last October Mrs. Spreckels' visit to London was suddenly shortened by the disappearance of $100,000 worth of jewels entrusted by her to Captain William Barrett, former husband of Alice [illegible], of Philadelphia. Barrett, to whom the jewels were given to have them cleaned and reset, was located in Los Angeles after his disappearance. He was released by the Los Angeles police because of insufficient evidence.

FIRST DUTCH IN CHARGE OF FUND

Transfer of Trust Fund Created By Von Solingen Will Made and Income Will Continue to Be Paid Church of the Comforter.

There was a large congregation at the First Dutch Church on Sunday to hear the Rev Wilbur F. Stowe, pastor of the Church of the Comforter, who occupied the pulpit, and administered the Holy Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. It is not necessary to speak of Mr. Stowe's remarkable success as pastor of the Church of the Comforter the congregation of which has greatly grown in numbers and usefulness since it called him to its pulpit.

An impressive incident at the close of the service at the First Dutch Church was the transfer by Miss Sarah B Reynolds, Miss Henrietta Wynkoop and Miss Charlotte Keese Drury trustees under the trust created by the will of Henrietta Van Solingen by which a fund of $3 000 was set apart, the income perpetually to be used in aiding and promoting the preaching of the Gospel according to the doctrines of the Reformed Protestant Dutch Church among the poor of Kingston Henrietta Van Solingen's will was admitted to probate by the surrogate of Ulster county on the 15th day of August, 1860 She appointed as trustees, Francis S Wynkoop, of the city of New York, Miss Henrietta Wynkoop, Mrs Mary Jane Wynkoop Reynolds of Kingston, Augusta Wynkoop of Kinderhook, and their successors as trustees, with power to appoint their successors, and fill vacancies The original trustees died long ago, first appointing their successors, the trust has been faithfully administered for the last sixty years.

The present trustees felt that the time had arrived when the trustees should be a body corporate and therefore appointed the consistory of the First Dutch Church as their successors. The consistory accepted, and at the close of the communion service yesterday morning Judge Clearwater representing Miss Reynolds, gave to the members of the consistory a history of the origin of the fund, and the disposal of its income, which he said for sixty years had been paid to the Church of the Comforter, which during that period had grown from an insignificant outlying mission to one of the most important and influential churches in Kingston, with a thoroughly progressive membership

Miss Reynolds, handing over the bonds in which the fund is invested, spoke feelingly of her grand-aunt, Henrietta Van Solingen, who created the fund of her aunt, Henrietta Wynkoop, who with her mother, Mary Jane Wynkoop Reynolds, had administered it She said she was no longer as young as formerly she had been the present Henrietta Wynkoop was something of an invalid, Miss Drury was a resident of New Brunswick, New Jersey, and they had selected the consistory of the First Dutch Church as trustees because of its high position in the annals of the Dutch Reformed Faith, and because from its pulpit for over two and a half centuries had been preached the Gospel according to the doctrines of the Protestant Reformed Dutch Church in America

Professor Michael representing the consistory, said they would guard the fund with the same jealousy with which always it had been protected, they would receive and administer the income to the Church of the Comforter as had been the traditional practice of the preceding trustees, during the last sixty years The receipt for the fund was signed by Clarence H Schoonmaker, Myron J Michael A D Rose, J M Millham, E E Fessenden William G Merritt and Edgar N Palen representing the consistory, the church being without a settled pastor

The board of directors of the Veteran Volunteer Firemen's Association of Kingston meet this evening to organize

Mental Culture.

Mayor Lunn of Schenectady pointed to a two-page advertisement extolling the marvelous efficiency of a mental gymnastics correspondence school.

"Did you ever try a correspondence course in mental gymnastics?" he asked the reporter

"No; I don't take much stock in such things," the reporter answered

"Well, I know a man," answered Mayor Lunn, "who took a three months' mental gymnastics correspondence course, and he's a millionaire today."

Impressive pause

"To be sure," Mr. Lunn added, "the man was a millionaire before taking the course, but the extraordinary fact I want to bring out is that since taking it he hasn't lost his money."

Pharmacy for Females.

Pharmacy as an occupation for women is gaining favor rapidly. A very large number of women took the course at Columbia last year and a still greater number have applied for the course about to begin. "Until recently," said Dean Rusby, "we had a few women in this field. Pharmacists did not wish to employ them. In the first place it was a novelty, and there was the usual hesitation to accept a novelty."

Now, according to Dean Rusby, many women are making good in pharmacy, and some of those who have taken advanced courses and become analysts are doing very good work in chemical laboratories and for manufacturing houses.

IS NEW ASSISTANT ADJUTANT

Russell G. Creviston, Who Has Seen Much Active Service, Is Appointed to Important Position

Russell G Creviston, who has been appointed assistant national adjutant of the American Legion by F W. Galbraith, Jr, national commander, was director of organization at national headquarters from November, 1919, to October 1920

A Hoosier by birth Mr Creviston enlisted in May, 1917, in company E of the Fourth Indiana infantry He served as a private in this company for three months when he was selected as a candidate from his company to the second officers' training camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana. After his graduation from the camp he was given complete charge of the administration co-ordination section of the general staff of the eighty-fourth division.

Mr. Creviston assisted in the organization of a vocational training system, and in this connection was transferred to the inspector's division and given charge of the states of Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska North and South Dakota, where he established various student army training corps

After the completion of the S. A. T. C movement, Mr Creviston was transferred to the general staff and put in charge of the ninth district commission on training camp activities. With the rank of captain he covered nine states of the Middle West in the interest of bettering camp and non camp cities during the demobilization period. He was discharged June 7, 1919, and accepted a position in the Community Service, Inc of New York, which loans his services to the American Legion

POST WITH ALTITUDE RECORD

"Top of the World" Organization of Peru at Height of More Than 14,000 Feet.

The "Top of the World" post, claiming to be the highest in The American Legion and the first and only unit thus far established in Peru, has been founded by 16 ex-service men in a copper mining camp at Cerro de Pasco, and the altitude record it has set up for other posts to shoot at is 14,000 feet.

"So far as we can determine," writes Clyde A Warne, the post adjutant "this is the only post in Peru, and certainly in this district of Peru, known as the Junin Pampa. Its location and transportation facilities Cerro de Pasco is the logical meeting place for ex-service men in other camps in the central Peru Montana district. It is the largest camp and town in the district including Aroya, Morococha, La Fundicion and Casapalca.

"The name 'Top of the World' was unanimously selected as an excellent name for the post, due to the fact that we are at an altitude of a little more than 14,300 feet and we believe we are the highest post in the Legion.

MATTERS BEFORE SURROGATE GILL

A hearing was had before Surrogate Gill in the surrogate's court today in the matter of the annual accounting and judicial settlement of the accounts of Charles B. Finch, as trustee under the will of Charles Durham, of this city, and a decree passing and approving the account was directed to be prepared. Fowler & Loughran appeared for the trustee and Howard Chipp for other interested parties.

A hearing was had in the matter of the judicial settlement of the account of John H. Smailes, as administrator of the estate of Peter DeWitt of Ellenville. An order directing the sale of real estate was granted by Surrogate Gill and the matter was adjourned until December 28. H. Westlake Coons appeared for the administrator and Frank W. Brooks for other interested parties.

A hearing was had in the matter of the judicial settlement of the account of Susan B. Elgnor as administratrix with the will annexed of the estate of Isaac J. Smith of the town of Shandaken, and a decree was directed to be prepared. Bronnier, Canfield & Brunnier appeared for the administratrix.

A hearing was had in the matter of the judicial settlement of the account of Dwight Divine and Evelyn Bailey as executors and trustees of the estate of Edwin J. Bailey of Ellenville. The account shows the executors and trustees have in their hands for distribution the sum of $21,327.59, and a decree passing and approving their account was directed to be prepared. The matter was adjourned until December 28. H. Westlake Coons appeared for the executors.

ALUMNI DANCE

Will See Many Graduates of Academies and high school in attendance.

An alumni dance that will appeal to every one and that will be long remembered is what the committee in charge of the Kingston High School Alumni Association Christmas dance has in mind. Nothing is being left undone to carry out the plans which were completed some time ago for the dance that will be held in St. Mary's Hall next Monday night.

The 400 alumni friends who are expected to be present will be entertained from early evening until an hour past midnight. Any graduate of U. A., K. A., or of the Kingston High School will be welcome, and is permitted to bring an "outsider" with him to the dance. To insure excellent music for dancing the committee has secured an orchestra of six pieces.

Trunks, suit cases, traveling bags, brief cases, 20 to 30 per cent reduction. 331 Wall street, Kingston, N. Y.—Advertisement.

N. Y. FRANCHISE TAX IS UPHELD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The New York state law, imposing franchise and license fees for doing business in the state, was upheld by the United States supreme court today and given priority over other claims.

Judge Hand, of the New York federal court, upheld the lien of the state as to franchise tax but denied it as to license tax. The circuit court of appeals upheld the state's claim of priority of both taxes and the decision was appealed by H. Snowden Marshall, receiver of the All Package Grocery Stores Company, a Delaware corporation. The state of New York as a creditor of the corporation filed claims: (1) for $842.58 for annual franchise tax; and (2) for $23,515.72 for license fees due from the corporation for the privilege of exercising their corporate franchise in the state of New York.

Dance Tonight.

A "Novelty Dance" will be held this evening at St. Mary's Hall under the auspices of St. Mary's basketball team. Baile's 6-piece orchestra will furnish the music.

TUG ROB IN COMMISSION.

Dry Dock Section's Reported Passing Newburgh.

The Cornell Line tug Rob which has been rebuilt at the Cornell yard at Sleightsburgh, has been again placed in commission in charge of Captain John Lyon of Port Ewen, who was mate on the Rob under Captain George B. Gage, who retired the first of the month. The Rob is now in excellent shape, and as usual will remain in commission to help the Transport break through the river ice as the winter advances.

The three sections of the big dry dock under construction at the Island Dock yard of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation left here Saturday afternoon for New York, and this morning at 7 o'clock were reported as just passing Newburgh.

The last regular tow of the season left Rondout harbor Saturday. It is expected that a special tow will leave here Tuesday for New York.

Lady Anne Azzapetian, wife of General Azgapetian, of Armenia, is one of the foreign visitors who will attend the convention of the National Women's Party in Washington in February. She will appeal to the women of America at the convention on behalf of Armenian women, many of whom now suffer untold hardships. The photo shows Lady Azzapetian as a member of the Armenian Red Cross.

Pet Had Various Names.

A neighbor, seeing the seven-year-old daughter of a geologist playing with a bedraggled but cherished kitten, asked what her pet was called. "Well," replied the precocious youngster, "that depends. Father calls her a segregation from an intrusive magma of doubtful genesis; mother refers to her as the basement complex; sister Helen insists that she is a typical example of secondary impoverishment; but I just call her my dear little kitty."

Prolific Hen Honored.

Some time ago a public funeral was accorded by the villagers of Zofingen, Switzerland, to a hen that died immediately after laying its thousandth egg; and a granite tombstone was afterward erected by them over its grave.

Hymn Quickly Composed.

Perhaps the most quickly written hymn was "From Greenland's Icy Mountains," which was composed by Bishop Heber in little more than fifteen minutes.
